Union Leaders Claim That the Strike of the Shopmen is Practically Complete—No Disorder as Men Lay Down Their Tools—Carry Workers from Shops at Beardstown

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 1.—With the countrywide strike of shopmen declared by union leaders to be practically complete, the nation's great transportation machine continued its work without interruption.

Railway executives were unanimous in expressing their belief that the strike would have little effect on the operation of their roads and asserted that any move toward a settlement would have to come from the labor board or the employes.

B. M. Jewell, president of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor, who yesterday refused to appear at a federal insuiry into the strike call, reiterated that the only basis for a settlement was for the roads to agree not to put into effect wage decreases recently ordered for the shopmen by the labor board.

Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the labor board, declared in a formal statement that the power of the government, coupled with public sentiment, will give every protection to every railway employe who remains on the job and to all new men who take the places of the strikers in the present walkout.

Mr. Hooper asserted that the strike was called against the decisions of a federal tribunal over rulings laid down after careful consideration of the evidence on both sides. The men who take the place of the striking shopmen will do a public service, he declared, and should therefore be immune from the characterization of "scab" or "strikebreaker."

The walkout began in all sections of the country promptly at 10 a. m., and in many places took on the aspect of a holiday, the men singing and cheering as they threw down their tools. As reports come into union headquarters here leaders asserted the ranks of the strikers would number more than three quarters of the 400,000 membership before night. Later Mr. Jewell said that reports from 128 of the 201 class one roads showed a practically one hundred percent walkout.

Use Force at Beardstown

The only display of force reported during the day was at Beardstown, Ill., where several hundred shopmen, after failing to persuade four companions to join them in the walkout, picked them up bodily and carried them out. "We sent them home," the leader was quoted as saying, "to avoid trouble."

In Chicago, the hub of the walkout, where it is estimated 100,000 men are effected, no disturbances are reported and all of the roads claimed that both passengers and freight were being handled without interruption.

"Train operations are just as usual, and we are carrying crowds even on the extra sections that have been attached for the holiday pilgrims," was the word from the general offices of the Northwestern lines.

"I do not expect the strike to interfere with train movements," said S. M. Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western railroad and chairman of the western rail executives. "The experience of the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific and other roads that have had extensive shop strikes shows no interruption of traffic is to be expected."

Among the presidents of railways entering Chicago the determination was expressed to have no dealings with the representatives of the striking unions. They were unanimous in declaring that the issue was not between the unions and the railways but between the unions and the labor board.

Says Strike Not Perfect.

The executives also asserted tha the strike was far from being perfect in the Chicago district, several thousand men remaining at work. The Illinois Central and the Cloverleaf were reported to have been the least affected although no exact figures were obtainable. The executives declared that only one of the Pullman shops had been unionized by Mr. Jewell's department and that his shop alone of all the Pullman shops will be shut down.

Meanwhile the labor board received assurance from the federal administration of complete backing in its policies.

At Topeka, Kansas, Governor Allen summoned the industrial court judges and Attorney General Hopkins into conference to consider means for dealing with the strike. In many sections the roads were assured of police protection ad in the larger cities guards were thrown about the shops. A slight clash was reported at Ivy City, Maryland, when striking shopmen from the Baltimore and Ohio shops mistook a detail of guards for strike breakers, but no one was injured.

From San Francisco it was reported that he walkout was more than 90 percent effective in California, Oregon and Washington. Reports from Atlanta said that upward of 30,000 men in the southeastern territory answered the strike call.

In an interview tonight Mr. Jewel was quoted as saying that the shopmen, having left the employ of the railroads, no longer came under the jurisdiction of the labor board. He was quoted as declaring that any negotiations by the shopmen would be with the rail executives.

Chairman Hooper of the labor board said that such a position "may rise up to haunt hi mlater."

HARDING IN CAMP WITH MARINES ON GETTYSBURG FIELD

Will Witness Reproduction of Pickett's Famous Charge

(By The Associated Press)

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 1.—President Harding is encamped tonight with 5,000 marines on the historic Gettysburg battle field. Accompanied by Mrs. Harding and a few friends, he came by automobile today from Washington, arriving at the camp established by the marine corps in time to witness a late afternoon reproduction of Pickett's famous charge.

The President and Mrs. Harding will remain here overnight and plan to leave tomorrow by automobile for Marion, Ohio, where a homecoming celebration will be held next week. Two days, it is expected, will be required to complete the trip to Marion.

Shortly after arriving at Camp Harding, the Presidential party went to an observation tower on Cemetery Ridge to watch the maneuvers staged by the Fifth and Sixth regiments of marines which helped bring fame to the Second Division overseas. Carefully rehearsed, the re-enactment of the confederate charge was carried out with realistic effect.

No effort was made by the marines to represent the defense of the Union forces during the three day battle fought on the spot 59 years ago. The defense was theoretical entirely and the maneuvers were carried on entirely by troops representing Pickett's men.

The campaign hats of the tanned marines were creased down the middle instead of pigned to resemble the battered head gear of Confederate soldiers. None of the men wore leggins and many were dressed in fatigue uniform. Others appeared in the sham battle without their olive drab shirts.

After a 15 minute cannonade by the Tenth Artillery, the marines in mass formation as Pickett's advance, moved slowly forward. Adding to the realism of the spectacle, men fell in their tracks as they advanced while their comrades moved on toward what was once the Union line. On reaching the "high water mark" the troops retreated and the maneuvers were over.

The President and Mrs. Harding are quartered at the camp at a temporary White House of canvas and wood. The structure is eqipped with elaborately furnished living rooms, baths, electric lights and even has a front porch.

The trip from Washington was made in 3½ hours, part of it in a driving rain.

SITUATION QUIET IN DUBLIN LATE SATURDAY NIGHT

Sounds of Sniping Only Ones Heard in Insurgent Districts

(By The Associated Press)

DUBLIN, July 1.—Dublin was relatively quiet at 11 o'clock tonight, altho there were sounds of sniping in the districts occupied by the insurgents, there was no indication of an offensive by the national troops.

Some fighting was in progress in the north of the city, and movements of national troops passing thru the city were accompanied by the usual fusillades from barricaded strongholds. The main thorofares were almost deserted thruout the evening.

It is estimated that not more than 600 or 700 irregulars remain in the city. Another body of them surrendered tonight, but their number could not be ascertained. Lord Mayor O'Neill and Archbishop Byrne have been trying to arrange for a cessation of hostilities but without success.

A sharp engagement took place during the evening between the nationals in occupation of the North Star hotel, and irregulars in Moran's hotel. This district today was one of the most perilous in the city. The garrison in Moran's Hotel is believed to be composed of members of the I. W. W. and the district has been turned into a hornets' nest.

The Ratsfarnham police barracks in the suburbs has been evacuated and set on fire. The garrison of regulars is believed to have made its way to Dublin. Irregulars from the suburb of Bray are reported to be entering the town.

WINNER OF TWO WAR DECORATIONS FOUND STARVING

Four Times Wounded, Shell Shocked and Gassed in France

NEW YORK, July 1—Four years ago France and Italy decorated Lewis Fredow, four times wounded, gassed and shell shocked while serving in the Yankee division in France.

A passing policeman found him today, huddled, rainsoaked figure starving on a bench in Bryant Park in the heart of New York's busiest district. He was unable to tell his story until at the station house, coffee and food bought him with a collection taken up among policemen, had revived him slightly.

Then he said in a hoarse whisper—the gasses I got France still burned his throat, he explained—that he had enlisted in the 103rd infantry in May 1917. He then was married and lived in Boston. He never found his wife and daughter after his return.

Fredow had not eaten for three days, he told police when found today.

DECISION DELAYED IN GREEKS' CASE

Quincy, July 1.—Judge Wolfe did not make a finding today on the motion for an arrest in judgment, made by the counsel e for the defense of the 29 Greeks recently convicted here on the charge of manslaughter. The motion was entered Friday after a new trial had been denied. The defense bases the motion on an alleged defect in the count of the indictment under which the men were found guilty. Judge Wolfe announced that he desired to look into the matter further before giving his opinion.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER GIVES MONEY AWAY AT BIG CIRCUS SATURDAY

It Was Only Dimes, However, and He Was Sparing of Them

By Associated Press.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., July 1—Clowns grimaced, trick mules bucked, horses pranced and pink lemonade flowed frely for all the children of this vicinity, who were the circus guests of John D. Rockefeller, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and their children also were listed with hosts.

The circus was organized by Mr. Rockefeller to raise funds for a community church building, the show over, Mr. Rockefeller presented a new dime to each of his little guests and the performers.

Mr. Rockefeller sat in the front row, surrounded by the children and enjoyed as much as they did the tricks of the jugglers and the antics of the clowns. He distributed about $20 in new dimes.

"I want to give you a souvenir" and pressing the coin into the hand of the shears-cutter, he added "here is one for your dear wife. Have you any children?"

"Two," the man replied, and he got two dimes.

"Father and mother living?"

A nod and two more shiny coins were put in his palm.

Mr. Rockefeller asked a contortionist how much he weighed and when told 135 pounds, he marveled and gave the man a dime for each member of his family.

WINS FORTUNE IN AFRICAN GOLF GAME

MOUNT HOLY, N. J., July 1.—A wrist well trained in the subtle dexterities of "African golf" today brought the first installment of a rich reward to Sergeant Gustave Reisig of the quartermaster corps, U. S. A., at Camp Dix, when h ereceived a $33,000 check.

This represents the first payment on oil royalties from Oklahoma land won by the veteran sergeant in a crap game five years ago.

The source of the fortune, whose name is now unknown to Reisig, had succumbed to a long series of "naturals" leaving him with little more than a desperate hope and a deed to a few acres of Oklahoma land which he considered worthless.

"Shoot you for that," he offered.

"You're on," reolied the sergeant, and he coaxed forth another "natural" and pocketed the deed.

A few years ago, he said today as he boarded a train for his home in Springfield, Ohio, he obtained financial backing for an oil probe of the property. Wells were sunk and gushers resulted. There also resulted a contract which will pay Reisig 33 cents on every barrel of oil.

Reisig has been in the army 29 years. He is 45 years old.

IOWA REPUBLICANS ASK PRIMARY REPEAL

DEATH SENTENCE ON ALIEN DOG BRINGS PLEA FROM HARDING

President Asks Governor Sproul to Intercede to Save Its Life

(By The Associated Press)

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 1 — The President and Mrs. Harding, and Governor Sproul, it became known today, interceded for the life of a dog that was supposed to have been condemned to death at Lawnsdale, Pa., because it was owned by an alien contrary to Pennsylvania law. The dog's life had been saved, and the alien, Jacob Silverman, a farmer, fined $25, before the presidential appeal reached Justice of the Peace Boorse. The alien has taken an appeal from the fine and "Dick" Silverman, part St. Bernard, and part Mastiff, is in the care of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

The president in his appeal to the governor said:

"I think you will have to count this letter a personal one, rather than an official communication. I write it at the suggestion of Mrs. Harding, though I am happy to do so, because the appeal which has greatly stirred her touches me no less forcibly.

"I enclose you the anonymous letter and the newspaper clipping which came to Mrs. Harding. If the story is correct a Russian immigrant has a faithful dog which he loves and because his possession of the dog in some way conflicts with the state law, the devoted animal has been sentenced to be shot.

"Surely there must be some way to comply with the spirit of the law and allow this poor foreigner to retain his treasured animal friend.

"If it came within my executive authority, I would gladly grant a pardon to the convicted animal.

"Mrs. Harding and I are both pleased to appeal for some form of clemency in this case, and hope this not is not too late to enable us to add our appeal in behalf of both Silverman and his dog."

Governor Sproul immediately wired the justice and also telegraphed the president assuring him that "Dick' would be reprieved."

EVANS AND STEVENS ENDORSED FOR JUDGES

DES MOINES, Ia., July 1.—Practically every Republican convention in Iowa today endorsed Judges W. D. Evans and Truman S. Stevens of the state supreme court, for re-nomination, according to reports received here.

Many conventions, such as those in Boone, Webster, Lyon and other counties endorsed the entire Republican ticket, "from Brookhart down," but in many no mention was made of the senatorial nominee. In Pottewattie and Lynn counties, controlled by anti-Brookharters, endorsements were voted for the ticket from governor, thus excluding Brookhart.

Humboldt county demanded the repeal of the Cummins-Esch law, and Lynn county insisted on the repeal of the primary law.

Willis S. Stern of Logan county was endorsed for member of the farm loan board by many counties.

The Democratic convention in Clinton county passed a resolution favoring a modification of the Volstead act and enactment of a law favoring light wines and beers.

WEST VIRGINIA MINERS GRAPPLE WITH STARVATION

Report Made by Commission which Investigated Conditions

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 1—An account of a frightened people in a grim death grapple with slow starvation is the report made public today of the commission appointed by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of Free Synagogue, New York, at the invitation of T. L. Lewis, secretary of the New River Coal Operators' association to investigate the living and working conditions of the striking miners in the West Virginia coal fields.

With the male workers unemployed or receiving but negligible pittance from odd jobs such as the gleaning ginseng from the bare hills of West Virgina, the commission estimates that there are between 2,500 and 3,000 families in the new river coal field, where they carried on their investigation, in dire need. In the homes of these families, according to the commission, there is insufficient food, and in many, no adequate clothing.

The report states that "the precise numbers in need are unimportant since it is clear that many thousands are suffering" and adds:

"There is one group in particular who are in especially acute need. These are the families of mine workers who have been evicted from the company houses in the course of the companies efforts to get rid of active unionists. These men, forcibly thrown from their domiciles or compelled to leave by court order, are now living in what shelter they can find. Some are grouped together in tents, thru which the rain pours, some are living in barns, with their miserable belongings; others have found abandoned houses in which to dwell. More than 300 families have been evicted in the territory visited by the commission; and "house notices" have been served upon many more. These men are for the most part blacklisted; the stories of their efforts to get jobs in mines about the state are pathetic. They are subsisting as best they can upon the inadeuqate allowance of the union.

COAL CONFERENCE GETS UNDERWAY AT CAPITAL SATURDAY

Resolves Itself Into Two Conferences, One Representing the Bituminous Industry, and the Other the Anthracite Division—Former Will Meet Again This Afternoon

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Coal operators and miners' union officials meeting today at the behest of President Harding, buckled down to the task of reaching a basis for negotiating a settlement of the nationwide coal strike and in doing so resolved themselves into two conferences—one composed of those engaged in the bituminous industry and the other of thoe interested in the production of anthracite. Neither of the conferences arrived at definite conclusions today and adjourned for further meetings, mindful of the warning given by President Harding in opening the full conference that unless they were able to reach a settlement of the strike "'the servants of the American people will be called to the task in the name of American safety."

The bituminous conferres by far the most numerous, agreed to meet again at 2 o'clock tomorrow. The anthracite representatives after discussing with Secretary Fall the issues held responsible for the suspension of work in their districts, adjourned to meet again next Thursday.

Participants in the bituminous conference made no statements except that their two executive sessions had been inconclusive. Several operators let it be known that they expected their discussions to continue for several days. It was clear that the atmosphere at both sessions was what a cabinet member described as "pugnacious."

The main fact said to be determined was that the miners' union, thru its president, John L. Lewis, insisted upon a precedent to strike settlement. Operators apparently were not ready to concede this and the stumbling block at this stage apparently was the same on which the original walkout was precipitated.

Both Secretaries Hoover and Davis attended the meeting but the government's proposals if any are to be made in its behalf were not submitted today.

The anthracite conference, resulted in a re-statement of differences which led to its suspension several days ago, the union officials insisting upon a continuation of wage scales as they existed April 1, and the operators tendering arbitration as a method of determining whether the scales should be reduced. A wait, presumably to allow determination of the bituminous situation was agreed upon.

Intervention Saves the Day.

Only the intervention of Secretaries Hoover and Davis, prevented a vote being cast on which those negotiations might have ended.

Hardly had the bituminous delegates assembled before John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, raised a question as to the representative character of the operators' spokesmen present. He demanded to know why the New River and Kanawha fields of West Virginia, the upper Potomac fields of Maryland and Kentucky and Tennessee had no representatives present. A. M. Ogle, president of the National Coal association and chairman of the conference responded that operators' representatives had been named "only from those districts seeking a conference with the miners' union."

Mr. Lewis later countered with the preliminary motion to substitute for the district settlement recommendation a proposal that the conference urge negotiations thru a joint central competitive field wage committee of miners and operators, declaring this the usual practice. The discussion ran an until a vote was called. Here Secretary Hoover and Secretary Davis intervened, asking further opportunity for consideration and instead of voting on the counter propositions the meeting adjourned.

SENATE APPROVES TARIFF OF THIRTY CENTS ON WHEAT

Democrats Say It Will Cost People $100,000,000

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON July 1 — By a vote of 38 to 12 the senate approved today a tariff of 30 cents a bushel on wheat.

Democratic leaders declared during debate that his rate would cost the American people $100,000 000. Senator McCumber in charge of the measure, stating frankly the purpose of the rate was to keep above the world level the price of northern spring wheat from the Dakotas and Minnesota said he did not think the tariff proposed would be carried on to the consumer but even if it was it would not amount to two dollars a year to each consumer.

With the wheat fight out of the way, the senate made unusually rapid progress on the bill, approving several scores of committee amendments. The first to be agreed upon was a duty of 78 cents per 100 pounds of flour, an increase of 28 cents over the house rate. Other rates approved include:

Irish potatoes, 58 cents per 100 pounds, house rate 42 cents; dried 2 3-4 cents a pound, house rate 3 1-2; potato flour 3 cents a pound, house rate 1 1-2 cents.

Onions, 1 cent per pound; house rate 75 cents per 100 pounds.

Rates on personal fruits were increased generally over both the house figures and those originally recommended by the committee.

In defending the wheat duty from Democratic assaults, Senator McCumber made his first public references to his defeat in the North Dakota primary.

"For 23 years and more," he said, "I have been fighting the battle for the interest of the farmers of my state. I think my efforts in holding up tariff rates have not only been worth millions but have been worth hundreds of Millions of dollars in the years of my service to the people of my state. I shall close my labors still fighting their batles and still attempting to secure for them all that I can possibly secure by a tariff bill to the value of thir products and when I leave the senate I hope to leave it with a good protection upon the wheat of the North Dakota farmer."

The chocolate, packed in ten pound bars to be melted to cover candies, will be distributed from Chicago to cities thruout the middle west. Business revival and better employment conditions have created a bigger demand for candy thruout that part of the country, it was said.

Babe Ruth batted out his eleventh home run for the season yesterday. Unless a very remarkable showing is made in the coming weeks the home run champion will not be able to equal his own record. Even so Ruth is not the hero that he was a year ago. His effort to defy the commissioner of baseball and then his peevishness on the diamond set him down several pegs in public estimation.

As further proof that delay is one of the chief causes for criticism of American courts systems, note the fact that Mrs. Bergdoll is not entitled to recover the property the United States seized after the draft evasion incident. The happening and the trial were events of months and months ago, and now comes the final court finding. Some system should be found for guaranteeing more speed in court procedure.

A petition has been filed with the governor by one Illinois association asking that steps be taken to sift the Herrin happening to the bottom with the hope of punishing the guilty. It is a sad commentary on the efficiency and purposes of those in authority in Williamson county — officials sworn to enforce the law.

Now comes the assurance that alcohol will later be in competition with gasoline for fuel purposes. This sounds reassuring just at the time that the retail price of gasoline has been boosted another cent. But along comes the other announcement that the Standard Oil Co., has recently acquired holdings in the largest alcohol producing companies. This does not necessarily mean that the price of fuel alcohol will be high, but it does give further proof of the fact that the Standard Oil management with characteristic business sagacity is looking toward the future and takes no chances of competition that might be seriously detrimental to its own enormous business.

THE CALIFORNIA SPIRIT

It has often been said that the spirit of the people of California has had much to do with the development of the coast state. Dr. A. H. Dollear, who was recently there, was very much impressed with that fact. He found in all the cities visited an unfailing effort on the part of the residents to boost their own state. In some cities this spirit was developed to such an extent that the people always spoke in complimentary terms not only of their own city but of the other cities in the state.

The thought that impressed the Jacksonville man was that the development of this same spirit in Illinois would result in wonderful accomplishment. "Here," he said yesterday, "We have everything except the climate of California and a great many things not at all possible in the coast state. There is no fertile soil there, nothing would grow if water were not piped from the mountains. Illinois has advantages of location and of soil that put it in a class far beyond California, and the development of an Illinois spirit like that which is at the foundation of California's growth would make our own state even greater than it is today

"The California spirit is a thing of marvelous influence. You cannot get people there to admit a single disadvantage. For example, if you ask about the limit on the height of buildings they will tell you that was fixed as a matter of architectual beauty or for the purpose of sunlight and sanitation, and never will you find a resident admitting that the limitation was fixed because of the fear of earthquakes. After all the spirit influences are the biggest things in life."

The game was scheduled for 7 innings and resulted in a victory for the Orange Division with a final score of 6 to 4. The boys of the Black Division wish it understood that the Scoutmaster headed the Orange Division because they lacked a regular pitcher.

During the later hours of the afternoon a three inning game resulted in a victory for the Black Division. Hoover pitched the entire three innings and Copp took the lead with 2 three baggers.

Sunday we are expecting visitors again and Monday will close the week. Troop 4 will long remember this Outing and look forward to next year's trip to Meredosia with anticipated pleasure.

We close all day July 4. Cully Coffee Co.

MEREDOSIA PLANS BIG CELEBRATION

Railroad Bridge Will be Formally Opened for Traffic July 12th—Jacksonville Invited to Participate in Program.

Mayor L. F. Berger of Meredosia yesterday extended an invitation to the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce to attend the celebration of the opening of the Meredosia bridge, Wednesday, July 12. The Meredosia people are planning a grand observance for that day. Invitaions to take part in the program have been extended to Governor Small, State Auditor Andrew Russel, Mayor E. E. Crabtree and Henry T. Rainey, candidate for congress.

The work on the bridge is rapidly nearing completion as is the work on the approaches. Before the date mentioned the bridge will be open to traffic and the Meredosia people feel that this really momentous event should be fittingly observed. In consequence, an all day picnic has been planned with a program in connection.

The churches of the town will unite and serve a chicken and fish dinner in the park. In the afternoon there will come the program and in addition there will be water sports and the various forms of amusement that are possible in a river town.

Mr. Rainey has promised to send as a gift a thorobred calf from his Greene county farm and this animal will be auctioned off, the sum thus secured to be added to the bridge fund.

In addition to those already mentioned, George T. Telling of Danville will have part in the program. Mr. Telling has extensive land holdings near Meredosia and is credited with being largely instrumental in influencing the Wabash officials to enter the agreement which made the opening of the bridge possible.

For many years the Meredosia people have been trying to reach an agreement with the Wabash with reference to the use of the bridge, but all previous attempts to secure the consent of the road had failed.

The Meredosia people feel that the opening of the bridge is a real achievement, not only for their home town but for the whole county and so they are expecting that the event of July 12 will be memorable in the history of the town.

BIGGEST PROBLEM OF AUSTRALIAN FARMER

Is Protection of Wheat From Mice —Believe it is Now Near Solution.

SYDNEY, N. S. W.—Hope that one of the Australian farmer's great problems — protecting wheat against the attacks of mice —is near solution has risen from successful tests conducted by a Sydney doctor of a protective preparation he had evolved.

The value of the discovery may be gained from the fact that the records of the Wheat Board show losses of 500,000 pounds in New South Wales alone directly attributed to the ravages of mice.

The final test was conducted by the inventor. Dr. Henry Bottrell, in the presence of representatives of the Wheat Board, Primary Producers and the press, mice were sealed in an iron tank with large supplies of bread and wheat, which were enclosed in sacks and cardboard boxes which, had been sprayed with the solution invented by the doctor, some as long ago as 15 months. When the seal of the tank was broken after two days, it was found that the mice had made no attempts to eat either the wheat or the bread no trace of teeth or claws being found on the boxes or bags. All of the mice were dead, apparently preferring to starve rather than approach the solution.

ASKS FOR RETURN OF ALL PATENTS AND TRADE MARKS

Demand all Transferred to It by Alien Property Custodian

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Instructions were issued today by President Harding that a demand be made on the Chemical Foundation, Inc., for immediate return to the government of all patents, trade marks, copyrights, contracts and other property transferred to it by alien property custodians of the Wilson administration.

The instructions contained in a leter written by Mr. Harding to Alien Property Custodian Miller which was made public at the White House were wholly unexpected, altho the Chemical Foundation numerous times has been under the fire of Republican members of congress.

In addition to the instructions that a demand be made for return of the assignments made by the alien property custodian's office under the previous administration, the president ordered Mr. Miller to take action advised or approved by the attorney general to respect fully, the rights of interests of the United States government or any of its agencies in the properties turned over to the Chemical Foundation.

Supplementary to the president's letter a statement was made by Attorney General Daugherty that the action taken by Mr. Harding was justified by the records of the department of justice which he said had for many months been conducting an investigation "in the face of much interference." The attorney general added that the instructions as to return to the government of property taken over by the foundation would be carried out "with all dispatch."

Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin, about a year ago, stirred up a row with the charge that "the dye monopoly headed by the Chemical Foundation company" had sought to influence three members of President Harding's cabinet in an effort to perpetuate "its present exclusive power' in this country thru retention of the dye embargo.

TURK LEADER ORDERS MISSIONARIES OUT

ADANA, TURKEY — Kemel Pasha, head of the Nationalist government at Angora, has issued orders that all American missionaries resident in Cilicia discontinue their work and leave the country immediately. The Turks apepar to be working on a deliberate plan to get rid of minorities before the Peace settlement in the view of observers here. Dr. Ward of the Near East Relief Commission, confirms reports that 10,000 adult Greeks in Asia Minor alone have been massacred and that the Relief Commission was not allowed to shelter their children.

Great Britain seems to be now the center of attack by the Kemalist Press. One newspaper recently published the following:

"It is the British who sow discord and trouble among you, oh servants of Christ. You should therefore know that if the commandments of the Holy Spirit are ten in number, the elevents should be hatred against England."

"And you followers of Mohammed, every time you kill a Christian, you are pulling down one of the corner stones of the British Empire. Therefore for God's sake massacre, for the love of your country massacre, in the name of crying humanity massacre, for the salvation of the world massacre."

Rev. and Mrs. Jasper Miller of Assumption, Ill., are in the city, guests at the home of Mrs. Catherine Goebel on South Main street. Their daughter, Miss Edith, who accompanied them to Jacksonville, has started on a journey to the Pacific coast. She will go first to Portland, Ore. and then visit cities in California.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Miller were residents here for a number of years while he served as pastor of a nearby Methodist circuit. Their son, Thomas Miller, whose wife is a daughter of Mrs. Goebel, is now a representative of the Shaw-Walker Co. in New York City.

PREICT WIRELESS TO OTHER PLANETS

Dr. C. G. Abbott of Smithsonian Institution Says this is Possible —Cost, However, Would Be Immense.

WASHINGTON—It may not be entirely impossible to open wireless communication with worlds other than our own, says Dr. C. G. Abbott, assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institute in its annual report for 1920 recently made public; but the cost would be immense.

If there are any other stars or planets inhabited by intelligent beings, and communication could be rendered possible with them, what a fund of knowledge might be learned from them.

"If we could talk freely with intelligenees existing on another world, having history, social customs and laws, and religious faiths developed absolutely independently from those of this world, our conversation would not only be of surpassing interest to science and the humanities," Dr. Abbott says, "but what a guide it might prove to statesmen and sociologists."

Great interest has been shown within late years in reports that wireless stations were receiving signals which could come only from another world, he continues. However, the best information seems to be that the wireless indications referred to are merely disturbances introduced by solar or terestrial causes as yet imperfectly understood, and not the work of intelligent beings trying to communicate with us. At the same time, Mr. Abbott declares computations have been made which seem to make it within the limts of possbility that wireless communications might be exchanged with the nearer planets, if it were worth while doing so.

"Proposals have also been made from time to time," continues the scientists, 'of communicating by searchlights or mirrors in the ordinary methods of heliographing. To me these latter proposals seem altogether too sanguine.

"Certainly for a planet life Venus which is almost wholly covered by the fogs the chance of a beam of sunlight or searchlight whole relatively immense surface where it could be observed by the supposed inhabitants, nothwithstanding the glare of their own atmosphere and the glare of the whole relatively immense surfac of the earth as compared to the surface of the reflectors or search lights employed, is quite beyond probability. If it were the case of communicating with the moon, there would be little doubt but that it could be accomplished.

"If it were Mars or one of the still more distant planets that was being considered, there seems to be not the slightest probability of success by the use of lights.

"So far as we know, then, any communications which can be made with other intelligent beings, if there are any, must be by means of wireless telegraphy or some as yet undiscovered means of communication."

SMALL GRAINS OFTEN GET HOPELESSLY MIXED

Varieties of Wheat, Oats and Barley Often So Mixed That It Is Impossible to Say What Type It Is—Threshing Machine Greatest Offender.

Uubana, Ill., July 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—Varieties of wheat, oats and barley become so mixed that it is impossible to say what is the type of the variety and what mixture, according to C. M. Woodworth of the plant breeding division of the university of Illinois.

Nearly all mixtures may be accounted for in two ways, said Mr. Woodworth, by mechanical means, and by hybridization.

"On the farm the threshing machine is perhaps the greatest offender in mixing varieties mechanically," he said, "since little or no care is taken to clean the machine after each job is completed. As a result, varieties of the same kind of grain, as wheat, not only become badly mixed with each other, but also the different grains become mixed as well, as wheat with oats with wheat.

"Where two varieties of the same grain are grown close to each other and they mature at about the same time, there is a chance for hybridization to occur. This is even more likely after considerable mixing has occured mechanically, and the several types are grown side by side in the same field. It is impossible to state definitely the amount of crossing that may take place under a given set of conditions; but observations lead to the belief that it is more frequent than it has been heretofore supposed to be. Hence, it is thought to play some part in varietal mixing.'

In Mr. Woodworth's opinion, the best way to purify a badly mixed variety is to select, just before harvest, a sufficient number of typical heads to plant a seed plot the following year. "These selected heads should be threshed by hand and all other necessary precautions taken to keep the seed pure. When the seed plot is headed out, it should be inspected carefully for mixtures, and any found should be rogued out. It is best to rogue twice, the first time just after heading, and the second time just before harvest. Unless one owns a threshing outfit, he probably will find it necessary to maintain a seed plot each year in order to keep his variety pure. It is not [illegible] and he would be well repaid for the trouble. A corner of the regular field works well for this purpose. The only extra work required would be rogueing the plot, then harvesting and threshing it separately."

TOURISTS AVOIDING GERMAN PROFITEERING

COBLENZ—American and British tourists are flocking to the larger cities in the occupied areas of Germany in order to escape the high prices for living now leveled allied nationals in the interior of Germany.

Hundreds of visitors on their way to and from the Passion Play at Oberammergau are making their headquarters during their stay in Germany in this city, and reports from Cologne, occupied by the British and from Mayence and Wiesbaden, occupied by the French are to the same effect. In th occupied areas they are protected against profiteering by laws which prevent German tradesmen from discriminating against Allied nationals.

Prices in the occupation zones, however, have taken a jump of about 75 per cent since the mark went, very low a few weeks ago and its gain within the past few days has had no effect whatever on prices. All tourists returning from the interior are warning their friends not to place themselves at the mercy of the German profiteers who are charging visitors from 200 to 500 percent more than German nationals.

AIRPLANE USED TO SOW GRAIN

Honolulu, T. H.—(By The Associated Press.)—A new use for airplanes — dropping seed in spots otherwise inaccessible to man—has been found by army officials here and is being carried out in cooperation with the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' association in an attempt to re-forest a series of steep ridges and gorges which form one of the island's watersheds.

On days when atmospheric conditions are favorablt the planes fly back and forth over the ridges and valleys forming the Koolau mountains, dropping the seeds of fig trees, which have been found ideal for retarding the flows of water resulting from heavy rains.

All previous efforts to reforest the Koolau mountains had failed. They form the watershed which suplies much of the plantation irrigation and domestic water used on the island, as well as Scholfield Barracks, the large military reservation.

CORN BELT LANDS LOSING FERTILITY

One of Signs is General Prevalence of Sour Soil, University of Illinois Points Out.

URBANA, Ill—The fertile farm lands of the Illinois corn belt are gradually becoming exhausted of their fertlity, and one of the outstanding signs of this exhaustion is almost general prevalence of sour soil on the cultivated farm lands, H. J. Snider of the University of Illnois pointed out here today. "It is becoming more difficult to grow clovers on these lands," Mr. Snider said, "and on a large part of the corn belt farms alfalfa and sweet clover cannot be successfully grown without first treating the land with limestone, and such treatment as this has proven to be very profitable.

"On the Joliet Experiment Field alfalfa was grown for four years both on limed and unlimed land. During the four years the limed land produced three tons an acre more alfalfa hay than did the unlimed land. The cost of lime and the labor cost for hauling and spreading amounted to about $2.00 per acre per year or $8.00 for the four years. The three tons increase in alfalfa was easily worth $45, so that the profit from the use of limestone in this case was quite substantial.

"On the Mt. Morris Experiment Field limestone is used to grow sweet clover and then this green sweet clover is plowed down as a green manure crop. This treatment consisting of lime, sweet clover has very materially increased crop yields on this land. During the past four years the overage gain in crop yields per acre has ben as follows: corn 1 bushe21s per acre, oats 11 bushels per acre, red clover hay 620 pounds per acre, and wheat 6 1-2 bushels per acre On this rather fertile corn belt, soil limestone in combination with sweet clover is a paying proposition. On this land sweet clover cannot be successfully grown without limestone."

Cooks and Operates Like a Gas Range Makes Gas from Kerosene

Note the features. Really more of a Gas Range than an Oil Stove, is the Alcazar Kerosene Gas Cook. This stove does not burn oil off the wick as does the ordinary oil stove. The Alcazar burner mixes air with the kerosene and makes a gas. You burn the gas, not the oil.

The gas makes a powerful blue flame which is concentrated directly on the cooking vessel where it is needed.

The heat is not spread and partially lost as with the ordinary Oil or Coal Stove. It all goes for cooking and baking. This means your cooking done quicker and less oil consumed. Also a cool kitchen in hot weather. Burning gas instead of oil insures a clean, sweet kitchen and a clean stove and pleasant cooking.

You'll save money instead of burning it when you have the Alcazar Kerosene Gas Cook. You'll lighten your cooking tasks too and make things easier for yourself.

Let us show you this stove. Note how well it is made—"A Beauty," you will say.

COURT OF HONOR PLAYS HERE TODAY

Strong Springfield Team Will Be Opponent of Indees — Seth Dove on Mound for Visitors.

Frank Smith's Indees will meet a worthy opponent at South Side park this afternoon when they face the strong Court of Honor team of Springfield.

The Court of Honor team has in its lineup some of the best players of Springfield, including Wilkin and Wattling who have both been seen here many times and are local favorites.

Uncle Seth Dove who has been pitching since "Hek was a pup" will be on the mound for the visitors. Dove despite his years of service can still zip them across with dazzling speed and it takes a real ball team to beat him

Redding who made such a good impression with the Indees last Sunday until forced to leave the game because of an injury will be on the mound for the Indees. Redding gave evidence of real pitching ability while he was hurling last Sunday.

He will feel more at home today and should do even better. He has shown that he is game and the fans will be pulling for him to win. On Tuesday the Indees will have Murrayville again and this promises to be a real battle.

Murrayville took the last game here on Decoration day. The Indees will try hard to even the score Tuesday. Seymour will do the heavy work on that occasion. If "Ginger" is right, and he nearly always is, he should be able to turn the Murrayville hitters back. The lineup for today.

Court of Honor—Wilkin, cf; Lynch, rf; Poli, 3b; Wattling, ss; ixon, 2b; Murray, 1b; Fisher ,lf; Dove, p; May, utility.

Indees—Dickason, ss; Wheeler 1b; Rush, lf; Christopher, 2b; Seymour, cf-p; DeFrates, 3b; Hamm, rf; Redding, p-cf; Smith, utility.

LEONARD IS READY FOR KANSAS BOUT

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., July 1. —Benny Leonard world's lightweight champion, and Rockey Kansas, the Buffalo challenger, will wind up hard training tomorow in preparation for their 10 round championship contest here the afternoon of July 4. The match will be staged under the direction of Floyd Fitzsimmons, for the American Legion post of Michigan City. Indications tonight were that the contest will draw at least $75,000.

Kansas, who has been in training for 16 days, began to slacken up this afternoon when he reduced his boxing to four rounds and limited his road work to about three miles along the Lake Michigan beach. He is down to 133 pounds. The Buffalo lightweight is confident of being returned the winner.

Leonard is in shape for the dangerous hitting challenger. The champion trained faithfully for his contest with Jack Britton, the welter-weight champion, and, as a result is in such condition that only a day or two more of light work is all that is needed to put him on edge. He said he would not weigh more than 137 pounds when he steps into the ring.

The title holder boxed six rounds at lightning speed this afternoon. His opponents were three featherweights.

SENSATIONAL TENNIS SEEN AT WIMBLEDON

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 1— A most sensational game of tennis was furnished the spectators today when Gerald Patterson, the Australian expert, defeated A. R. F. Kingscote of the British Davis Cup team in the singles of the international grass court championship today, 6-4, 3-6, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3. The victory came after a terrific struggle, during which the Australian had to retire for a time on account of illness. Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California, earned the right to continue in the ladie's singles play by defeating Miss Harvey, England, 6-3, 6-3, the American not having to extend herself.

Play in the championship is now approaching the dramatic stage, with the men's singles in the bracket of the last eight, among them Randolph Lycett, Australia, who defeated J. Brugnon, France today, 6-2, 1-6, 7-5, 6-3, Theodore M. Mavrogordato, England, and Patterson.

The experts affirm that Kingscote played a great game against Patterson on a slow court which made the Australian's cut shot much more deadly than usual.

TILDEN WILL PLAY IN FINALS TODAY

Will Meet Walter T. Hayes of Chicago This Afternoon.—Champion is Picked in Match.

CHICAGO, July 1.—William T. Tilden, Philadelphia world's singles champion will meet Walter Hayes, Chicago at 4 p. m., tomorrow in the final singles match of the Illinois tennis tournament. Both men had little difficulty today in the semi-finals, Tilden winning from Alex Squair, Chicago net star, in straight sets, 6-2, 9-7, 6-3, and Hayes deefating Young Phil Bettens, Pacific coast wonder 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

The world's champion naturally is conceded an excellent chance of taking the state title. His play today, when he was forced to exert himself, both in singles and doubles, was of the first calibre.

"Sandy" Weiner, Tilden's protegee, paired with Donald Strachan, both of Germantown, Pa., won the boys' doubles championship by taking the measure of George Holloway and Robert Carter Glencoe, 10-8, 6-3. Strachan won the boys' singles title from Wiener, 6-0, 6-2.

Bettens and Roy Coffin, Providence will meet Hayes and Squair tomorrow in the final doubles match. The Chicagoans upset the "dope" this afternoon by winning from Ralph Burdick and Fritz Bastian, both of Indianapolis, 6-1, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3. Bettens and Coffin beat Tilden and Weiner in a hard fought match, 7-5, 6-8, 4-6, 6-1, 9-7.

Marion Leighton and Mrs. Michel, Chicago, defeated Mrs. H. F. Williams, Indianapolis, western women's champion, and Miss Catherine Waldo, Chicago, 3-6, 8-6, 6-4, in the women's double final.

EVANS AGAIN WINS WESTERN GOLF TITLE

Chicago Veteran Plays Perfect Golf and Toys With Opponent —Never in Trouble but Once.

HILLCREST COUNTRY CLUB, KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 1—It's "Chick" Evans again.

The Chicago golfer for the seventh time can write "western amateur champion" after his name, for he toyed with George Von Elm of Salt Lake City in the finals of the Western Golf association tournament today, winning 5 and 4.

At no time was Chick in danger from the muchly touted far westerner and most of the spectators seemed to think he could have made the margin larger had he desired. Once he conceded Von Elm a four foot putt to give him a half on a hole. Evans turned in a card of 34—35—69 in the morning—four under par against Von Elm's 37—39—76—three over—and held a five hole advantage. While Von Elm occasionally cut this to four holes Chick kept the contest well in hand and ended it with a 15 foot putt for a birdie 3 at the 32nd, with the same advantage he had held at the half way point.

Chick's golf was the same old perfect game. He sent every ball straight towards the flag, the line of flight generally never varying two feet to either side. He approaches generally stuck near the hole, for his preceding shots had always left him in an advantageous putting position. Once or twice the stiff wind carried him a little too far, but not often.

Von Elm was good only in that he kept his nerve and never quit plugging away. His shooting at times was extremely poor. He hooked or sliced or pushed almost every wood shot. He was always in trouble while "Chick" never was in a bad place.

Von Elm tried to the end. He made some brilliant recoveries, he sank some long putts, but he faced a man who was perfection with every club.

Evans work in the morning round was equal to his splendid game of yesterday. He shot well from the start, never taking chances, but evidently playing each stroke with a thought on the next one for his position work was wonderful. Only once did he get into a trap and that was due to an eccentric kick taken by a straight shot ball.

ORK CONDITIONS GOOD; CROPS POOR

s Crop Especially Diminished y the Drouth—Corn Prospects re Good.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Conditions have been favorable for the omplishment of a large amount field work, but small grain crop spects, especially oats, have n somewhat diminished by outh over much of the state chinch bugs and rust as conting damage factors, accordto the weekly crop report of . Surratt, agricultural statistin for Illinois.

"Excepting rains in the extreme south on the 20th the last week has been dry with temperatures averaging about normal," the report continued. "Threshing has started in some localities in the South and will be general there next week.

"Corn reports, with some scattered exceptions, indicate that the condition has either been maintained or improved during the week. Cultivation has advanced favorably and fields are now noticeable clean. The late start together with the growing menace to this crop from chinch bugs, especially in the central and southern counties, does not present an encouraging future outlook for this crop.

"Winter wheat and rye harvest is largely completed in the southern counties and is now becoming general over the central portion of the state. Due to the adverse effects of the mid-June heat wave during the filling stage, and to some extent to rust and insect impairment, reports indicate more or less spotted conditions, and a slightly less favorable prospect for the state as a whole than June 1st.

"Owing to continued dry weather over most of the state following the previous heat, spring wheat, oats and barley all show some deterioration. Oats have been hard hit, especially in central and southern areas, and show a poor crop prospect quite extensively.

"Hay harvest is on full swing under very favorable weather conditions for this week. A large amount of hay has been baled under very nearly ideal conditions. Yields are favorable quite generally. Pastures are getting short in many localities and are in need of rain.

"The tree fruit prospect continues favorable but the berry fruit prospect has been noticeably reduced by heat and drought.

Potato and garden crops are reported in need of rain quite generally.

Excepting occasional reports of hog cholera reports show a satisfactory condition for livestock as a rule.

"The supply of farm labor is reported adequate to meet the farm demand up to the present time with some local exceptions.

KELLY GETS JOB AT MISSOURI U

Will Take Phelan's Place as Foot Ball Coach of Missouri Tigers —Is Chicago University Man.

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Appointment of Thomas Kelly, at present coach for Idaho University's football squad, as mentor for the University of Missouri Tigers this fall, succeeding James Phelan, has met with approval around the Missouri campuses. The belief prevails that Kelly's first year should be one of successes. If he doesn't there will be disappointment, for he will be met on the athletic field this fall by the most likely squad of football students that has ever faced a coach here.

Kelly is not unknown to Missouri, for after spending 1917 and 1918 in the army he came here in 1919 and coached the line under Johnnie Miller. The Tiger line that season was the best in recent Tiger history.

Kelly learned football under Stagg at the University of Chicago, where he played line positions for three years, 1906-08-09. He then coached at Mehlenburg, and in 1914 coached at Rolla where the University of Missouri School of Mines yearly turns out good football teams. In 1915-16 Kelly tutored the University of Alabama squad. For the last two years he has turned out strong teams in Idaho.

Kelly will have as assistant, Henry Garrity, the star back fielder for Princeton for the last three years. Garrity was highly recommended by Bill Roper, head Princeton coach, who coached Missouri's famous all-victorious 1919 team.

MANY HARNESS HORSES NOW AT NORTH RANDALL

Grand Circuit Meeting Opens There Tomorrow—Over 700 Horses Are at the Track.

CLEVELAND, — With more than 700 horses, the pick of America's pacers and trotters, quartered at North Randall, indications are that the Grand Circuit meeting, which opens Monday, will be one of the greatest in the history of the track. Three hundred and fifty entries were made for the nineteen events scheduled for the inaugural meet.

The track has been resurfaced and judging by time made by horses in training, is one of the fastest in America.

T. W. Murphy, the Poughkeepsie reinsman, the only trainer in America with two two-minute trotters in his stable is here with Peter Manning (1:57 3-4), the champion trotter, and Arion Guy. Mr. Murphy expects the latter to lower the stallion record (1:58 1-4) held by Lee Axworthy, now dead.

Besides Murphy, other prominent drivers whose mounts will be seen here include "Pop" Geers, "daddy of Grand Circuit drivers;" Walter Cox, Charley Valentine, Fred Edman, Harry and Vic Fleming; Lon McDonald, Dick McMahon, Ben White, Mike McDevitt, Harry Stokes and Ed Allen.

Of the nineteen events only two have less than ten nominations. These are for very low record pacers—the free-for-all with 7 eligibles and the 2:04 pace with eight.

The Edwards 2:08; the 2:16 pace 33; 2:21 trot 30; Fasig three-year old trot, 22; the 2:12 pace, 21; the Tavern "steak'" 26 and the 2:14 pace 29. In addition several other races have from fifteen to twenty.

Incidentally, if all accepted the issue, five or more events will have to be raced off on each of the five days racing instead of four as originally planned. Saturday is an open day held in reserve in the event rain causes a postponement.

The week's program follows:

July 3—2:07 class trotting, purse $1,200; The Edwards 2:08 class trotting purse, $3,000; 2:17 class trotting, purse $1,200; 2:04 class pacing, purse 1,200.

July 4—2:10 class pacing, purse $1,200; The Ohio, 2:07⅛ class trotting, purse $5,000; 2:12 class trotting, purse $1,200; 2:16 class pacing, purse $1,200.

July 5—2:21 class trotting, purse $1,200; The Fasig Sweepstake for three year old trotters, eligible to 2:12 class; purse 2,000; trotting sweepstakes 2:05 class $1,500 added money; 2:12 class pacing, purse 1,200.

July 6—The Tavern "Steak" 2:14 class trotting, purse $5,000; 2:06 class pacing, purse $1,200; 2:10 class trotting, $1,200.

July 7—2:19 class trotting, purse $1,200; free-for-all pace; purse, $2,500; 2:14 class pacing, purse, $1,200; 2:15 class trotting, purse $1,200.

FARM ADVISOR KENDALL HOME

Return From Big Meeting at DeKalb — Magnificent Pageant Was Held On Thursady Evening—Showed History of Farming in U. S.

Farm Advisor Kendall returned yesterday from the meeting of the Illinois State Associaton of Farm Advisors at DeKalb. The meeting was a two day affair lasting thru Thursday and Friday of last week. The first day was devoted mainly to business. The discussion of th subject of Rural Leadership also received much consideration on the first day. Alex Carr of Fargo, North Dakota was the speaker on this subject.

In the evening E. C. Hayes gave an address on outstanding rural leaders. Following the address some very excellent movies, having to do with farming, were shown.

On Thursday an address by Eugene Davenport, formerly Dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois, was a feature of the day. Mr. Davenport took as his subject, "When farmers work together." President J. R. Howard of the American Farm Bureau Federation, spoke on "The Outlook." Governor Prues of Minnesota discussed the Non Partisan League, and why it has failed.

The biggest event of the session was the huge pageant held Thursday night. It was entitled "Forward Farm Bureau," and gave the whole history of farming in America, showing what the farm bureaus have had to contend with and have overcome. Over two thousand people of the northern counties of the state participated in the pageant. A very excellent band accompanied the actors in the pageant.

Mr. Kendall motored to DeKalb, going by way of Bloomington and returning via the hard road and Springfield. He reports fine roads thruout the entire trip.

DOING BUSINESS IN WIDE TERRITORY

The paragraph below taken from the Blandinsville Star Gazette shows the aggressiveness of the Jacksonville Farm Supply Co. Few local people know that the company has three traveling representatives in Illinois and one in Missouri. Seventy-five per cent of the Farm Supply Co.'s business is wholesale.

The paragraph quoted mentions a motor cultivator which is said to be the most successful motor tool used in farming. Herman Spencer of Manchester is using such a tool on his farm and speaking from experience says that it should sell to any live farmer who is familiar with its successful working.

"Last week we spoke of Howard Bennett working his corn with a tractor. The machine he uses is a To-Ko, furnished by the Jacksonville Farm Supply Co. Howard is tending 196 acres of corn himself with this machine and has it in tip-top shape. It is a wonder and is attracting much attention. It will be in operation every day this week and part of next, and many farmers are going to see it. Theodore C. Hagel, of Jacksonville, Ill., is their representative. He and L. R. Baumgardner, of Colchester, made us a pleasant visit on Tuesday."

TO CANVASS ELECTION BALLOTS MONDAY

One Hundred and Fifty Voted for Commercial Division Directors. Position as to Band Reorganization Outlined.

The election of the executive board of the commercial division of the Chamber of Commerce closed at 7 p. m., Saturday. There were about 150 ballots cast, and owing to this fact the committee decided to wait until Monday to check up the vote.

As soon as the results are obtained those elected will be called for a special meeting at which the board will be organized, organization being the election of a chairman, two vice chairmen, a secretary and a treasurer.

The first thing to come before the executive board will be the question of band concerts. Some time ago a special committee was selected to investigate the possibilities of reorganizing the local band and holding summer concerts. It was found that it would cost in the neighborhood of $3,000 to do this.

Directors' Views Outlined.

The committee after investigating the matter, referred it to the board of directors, who made the following decision:

"The directors of the Chamber of Commerce wish to express their interest in, and the great need for, a municipal band as a necessary unit for the progress of Jacksonville. For the past year campaigns for the soliciation of funds have not been the success that was hoped. The merchants are complaining of what they call excessive solicitation.

"We do not want the municipal band idea to fail for lack of funds and we are wondering i. this is a proper time to ask for the needed money to be pledged for a number of years, and that is the only way, in our judgment, that a municipal band can be made a success.

"Should the committee, however, feel that it can successfully get pledges now for not less than $3,000 for the first year and $2,000 for the second year, we will give all the assistance possible. But we would like to suggest that from the study of other towns we believe the correct idea is to couple up the municipal band with the high school band, thereby in the course of years having continued feeders for a municipal band.

"We would suggest that the committee first approach the board of education to find out what kind of budget it will allow for the purchase of instruments and to help defray the salary of the band instructor, the instructor to devote the necessary time to the high school and municipal band at an agreed compensation"

The question of summer concerts will be referred to the executive board of the commercial division when elected.

A new straw hat for the Fourth will be found tomorrow at FRANK BYRNS Hat Store.

DISABLED VETS ARE REMEMBERED BY K. C.

W. T. Harmon Local Secretary of the Educational Welfare Activities Turns Over Large Quantity of Goods.

Some months ago the Supreme council of the Knights of Columbus decided to use the money left over from the war time fund to provide educational facilities, and entertainment for disabled war veterans in the various hospitals thruout the country.

Local secretaries are named where there are hospitals where veterans are receiving care or doing vocational work. W. T. Harmon is local secretary for the Knights of Columbus in this city.

Yesterday Mr. Harmon delivered to those in charge of the veterans at Jacksonville State hospital and Oak Lawn sanatorium a quantity of supplies sent from the supreme council. These supplies consisted of the following articles:

Seven thousand cigarettes, 650 pounds of hard candy, one case Hershey's chocolate, 300 packages chewing gum, tooth paste and brushes, shaving cream, brushes, razor blades, Tuxedo smoking tobacco, Climax chewing tobacco, combs, brushes, Grafanola and records, 3000 boxes of matches, complete baseball equipment consisting of bats, balls, mask, gloves, etc.

The Knights from this fund also provide entertainment for the soldiers. In the past few months Mr. Harmon has arranged entertainments of various kinds for the men at State hospital and Oak Lawn, these included a concert by the Illinois College band, movies and concerts.

The fund also provides for auto rides, shows, and Mr. Harmon said that likely arrangements would be made to take the men to the Barnes circus which appears here July 14.

PRODUCE MARKET REVIEW

Movement of eggs from producing points to large markets is normal for this time of year. Qualtiy at present is running very irregular, due to the hot weather and also to the fact that producers do not market eggs as frequently as they should. This is very important to insure obtaining top prices.

Live hens are moving well for the season of the year and on account of the large number available, are selling on lower basis.

Young chickens are coming to market in increasing numbers each week, but as there is a very good demand, prices are steady, altho pointing to a lower level.

Butter prices have worked higher, due to the fact that there were some sales made for export shipment. Production has shown considerable decrease the last ten days, on account of the hot dry weather, but as the amount produced has been heavier than usual for the year to date, it is natural to look for normal production to continue, which should hold the market steady.

LOOSE LANGUAGE IS BEING AVOIDED IN NEW CONSTITUTION

Word of Two Letters Tripped Framers of the Constitution of 1870 and Caused Lawyers Much Worry—However, it Made a Great Deal of Business in the Courts

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 1.—A little word of two letters, which tripped up the framers of the Illinois constitution of 1870, affected property rights of large proportions, and puzzled the best lawyers of the state for half a century, has placed the authors of the present proposed constitution on their guard in protecting the new document from the loophole of loose language.

The committee on Phraseology and Style of the constitutional convention which for two years has been laboring here intermittently to create a new basic law, calls attention in its report to the disastrous results of loose usage in language, citing the case of People ex rel Watseka Telephone Co. vs. Emmerson, Secretary of State.

In this case, involving great property rights, the highest court in the state was called upon to decide what the word "or" in the article on corporations in the constitution of 1870 meant. It decided it meant "and," thus laying to rest an ambiguity that had pestered the legal talent of the state for more than fifty years.

Calling attention to the necessity for rhetoric in the framing of a constitution, as in all legislative enactments, the committee says in reference to the above case:

"The language chosen by the convention (of 1870) was so uncertain that for more than fifty years nobody could say just what the convention meant by the words it used. To put the matter another way, the language used was so ambiguous that for many years the best lawyers of the state were split both ways on the meaning of the words in question; and the court as the final arbiter was compelled to fill the gap left open by the convention.

"The loose usage of the conjunction "and" for the alternative 'or' is notorious, not only in our laws but in general writing. There is little doubt that the convention of 1870 gave no thought to the question which of the two words should be used; the language coming from the Committee on Corporations having been adopted with little or no consideration of itself or precision. There could hardly be found in the books a better illustration of the necessity for extreme care in the use of words and for a full knowledge of the fundamental rules of rhetoric and grammar in drafting a constitution.

The question then arises as to how, in the event that the language of a constitution is ambiguous, is that language to be construed? How is the original meaning of the farmers to be ascertained and give effect? To this question the committee gives a simple and ready answer.

The opinion in the case cited as the committee points out, shows by abundant authority that constitutions get their force and effect not from the conventions that draft them but from the people who adopt them.

"For this reason," continues the committee report, "the language and words of a constitution are to be given their ordinary meaning as understood by laymen and not by lawyers or other experts.

"A study of the case shows a further point, which also deserves consideration; namely, that the meaning which a convention

SELF HELP STORES

Babson, the Statistician, Advises Merchants to Adopt New Method.

Wellesley Hills, July 1. 1922.—In an interview today Roger W. Babson appealed to merchants to study the "self help stores. He believes that the small merchant has great opportunity if he will only adopt modern methods and advertise more. He insists that the public does not demand the Chain Stores but rather demands economical and convenient service. People buy from the chain stores because that is the only place in their community that they can get such service, he continued.

"Chain stores are having a tremendous run today. They are springing up like weeds in every community. Local merchants are beginning to become panic stricken. They fear that the chain store is to follow up everything. Grocers, druggists and clothing dealers are especially troubled. Considering the tremendous number of small merchants this is a problem in which every one should be interested. There are for instance over 300,000 independent grocers in this country. To have their business wiped out would result in a tremendous economic appeal. All together there are over 1,000,000 small merchants in America who are vitally interested in this problem as they will be wiped out if the chain store proves to be the legitimate method of merchandising.

"Personally I feel that this change is due to the fact that the chain store comes nearer to giving the public what it wants and prospers for that reason. If the local merchants will adopt the same up-to-date methods of economical merchandising they need to have nothing to fear from chain store competition. These newer and especially these self help establishments are doing a splendid business because their plan is practical and because they are being operated by young men with initiative and enthusiasm. The railroads did a fine business when they were so operated, 20 or 30 years ago. Chain stores, however, will have their troubles just as the railroads have had theirs. Clerks, truck drivers, and buyers will some day be organized and as saucey and independent as the typical plumber is today. Then the chain store scale will drop off and operating expenses will increase and they will have to adopt a more modern form of merchandising or give way to a new order. The "self help" system eliminates labor difficulty to a considerable extent and presents a most interesting study both as to service and to cost.

"I appeal particularly to merchants of the older school and urge them to study very carefully these "self help" stores, with their "self help' service. It is true that the average merchant cannot get the advantage of collective buying unless he himself joins a chain. Any merchant, however, can install a "self help" system of selling independently. Of course, this means more than reorganizing the fixtures of his store.

He must change his entire attitude. The "self help" stores for instance are very dependent upon advertising, much more so than are the chain stores and local merchants. The latter must advertise more than ever if he is to obtain the "self help" system. I am not a merchant, merely a statistician. Statistics, however, clearly indicate that if the local merchant continues as at present he will be eliminated from American industry to make way for more modern machinery of distribution.

"In regard to the chain store securities. Most of these merchandising companies should do well for the next few years. Mail Order concerns will also prosper, but I predict that even stores like the A. & P. will some day change over to a "self help" system. They will be forced to in order to survive. When the change is made their securities will become "self help" securities. It is not my purpose," concluded Mr. Babson, "to recommend them as securities but rather to try to awake the local merchants before it is to late, and to get them to adopt the methods of more economical distribution which are winning out today."

General business according to the index figures of the Babson-chart stands at 17 per cent below normal. This is encouraging indeed when you realize that it is holding up in face of the threatened rail strike on top of the usual summer dullness.

FIFTY VETS OUTING TODAY NEAR BATH

Veterans From This City and Surrounding Towns Spend Week-End In Camp.

About fifty veterans of the World War will enjoy an outing over the week-end at the club houses at Bath. Buck privates and first lieutenants will bunk in the same place and will be on an equal footing.

This is the second annual river trip of the local post and will be far better attended than the trip last year. More elaborate preparations were made in every way in order for every one to have a good time.

The first group of men left at five o'clock last evening, another at eight o'clock and still another at ten. At Bath they were joined by ten Legion members from Chapin, ten from Concord, and several from Arenzville.

Those who went from here were:

CAMPERS HAVE TRACK AND FIELD CONTESTS

Boys In Camp at Meredosia Club House Engage in Spirited Contest Friday—Orange Division Winner.

Meredosia, July 1.—One of the visitors at camp this morning was Mrs. Charles Roberts, who brought a large-home-made cake which the boys found exceedingly delectable. One or two of the boys received eats from home and these came in fine as a part of the regular menu.

A track meet which was held this morning resulted in victory for the Orange division. They won 74 ponts which was four more points than the Hoover Black division had to its credit at the end of the meet. Green of the Hoover division was the individual point winner, having 23 to his credit. Kilian came second with 21 points. Another good player was John Cully, who rather unexpectedly won eight points, making first in the baseball throw and second in the discus, Class B division.

The results of the contests are given below:

VAUDEVILLE ON EXCURSION BOATS

Davenport, Iowa.—Moonlight steamboat rides on the Mississippi river, continuous vaudeville in an open air stadium which will seat nearly 10,000 persons, a score of outdoor band concerts and a monster parade to be featured by the appearance of 40 brilliantly unmeetings, and all of the entertainstumed patrols is a part of the program for the National Grotto convention here June 25-28.

One feature of the arrangement is making the convention an open air affair. Practically all of the meetings, and alll of the entertainment events will be held out of doors. Dancing in the streets, to be roped off from traffic for the occasion, and bathing in the new $140,000 swimming pool which the city is rushing to completon for the big convention, are additional entertainment features.

The city will practically suspend automobile traffic in the buisness district during convention week and has gathered together a huge motor fleet to transport the Prophets from one entertainment to another. Entertainment of over 15,000 visitors here during the convention is confidently expected.

The city has just opened a municipal golf course on Credit Island in the Mississippi river, a 200 acre park, which will also be turned over to the visitors for the three days of their national meeting here.

STATEMENTS MADE BY SCIENTIST THAT PUTS ONE UP IN THE AIR

Here They Are—Rainstorms Dry the Air—The Hotter the Sun Grows the Colder the Earth Becomes—These Things are Perfectly Clear to Everybody but the Layman

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—A rainstorm dries the air; more goes up than comes down; as the sun sets the air grows warmer; the hotter the sun grows, the colder the earth becomes; the sun rises before it is up and sets after it is down; these are strong statements and sound like a fairy tale, but they are all true. Dr. W. J. Humphrey, quoted in the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution which has just been made public, explains all of them. They are perfectly well known to scientists, if not to laymen.

As everyone knows, Dr. Humphries declares, water evaporates and is taken up in the air as vapor. This action is continuous all over the earth and the atmosphere would soon become very soggy if it weren't dried out. Rain is the collection, or condensation, and precipitation of these moisture particles, consequently, the more it rains the less water there is left in the atmosphere, or the drier the air becomes.

The second of Dr. Humphreys' paradoxes seems flatly to contradict the old saying "whatever goes up must come down." However, as the writer expresses it, vertical circulation in the atmosphere is only gravitational action, consisting in the sinking of relatively cold and therefore dense air, and rising of warm and light air. Contracted air descends, expanded air ascends. Therefore, mass for mass, the volume of escending air is always larger than descending. In terms of mass, also, Dr. Humphreys says, descending air is less than ascending, for air while rising contains immense quantities of water in suspension, which does not return to earth with that air but as rain, hail or snow. The air that rises from the land surface is greater in mass by at least 20,000,000 tons per second, the measure of world precipitation, than that which descends he says.

The third paradox is merely a way of stating that the warmest part of the day is not at noon, when the sun is at meridian or overhead and should seemingly be pouring down greater heat, but several hours later in the afternoon. That is because the surface of the earth and the lower layers of air continue to absorb more heat from the upper layers for some time after the latter been receiving the maximum amount of heat radiation from the sun.

It May Be So, But—

While it is not yet universally conceded that the next puzzler," the hotter the sun, the colder the earth," really is true, Dr. Humphreys states, the evidence in favor of it is already very strong. There are several explanations offered. The first is that increased radiation from the sun causes earths air currents to flow more rapidly, bringing down a greater quantity of cooler air from high latitude to lower. He rejects this explanation, however.

The temperature of the sun itself varies and sun spots are eruptions caused by heat activity. It is known, he continues, that earth's temperature varies with spot activity; that the more spots there are on the sun, the cooler the earth temperature becomes, and vice versa. Also, that the suns corona is in large measure only so much dust, must interfere with passage of radiation thru it. Hence: Hotter sun—more spots; more spots — denser corona; dense corona—less radiation re-

GAMBER MAKES PLEA AGAINST FIREWORKS

Asks for Absolute Prohibition in Illinois—Tells Young America to Beware of Sparkler.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill—A warning against so-called "harmless" fire works, which each year takes their toll of child life in Ilinois, and a plea for the absolute prohibition of fire works thruout the state were sent forth by State Fire Marshall John G. Gamber in an effort to reduce the losses to property and injury to persons resulting from Fourth of July fireworks celebrations.

The innocent looking sparkler and other "harmless" instrument of phyrotechnic display, may be just as dangerous as the heavier artillery of the great national holiday. Mr. Gamber pointed out in calling the public's attention to the fact that in the last five years the loss due to celebrating the day by fireworks has cost the people in Illinois $77,245.

Especially should young America beware of the sparkler, the fire cracker and all their kin in the fireworks family, Mr. Gamber says.

"The sparkler is supposed to be harmless because the sparks apparently are so, but its core burns with a white heat and each year causes death and injury to children by igniting their clothes" he continued. "Its danger is enhanced because it is popularly supposed to be danger-proof and parents consequently allow it in the hands of very young children. In this state last year ordinary firecrackers killed and injured children by setting fire to clothing or exploding in their hands. Other forms of fireworks took their respective toll.

"The safety first movement is growing all the time. Chicago and some other cities now prohibit the sale or trading in fireworks of every description. These cities still have "bootleg" fire works to contend with and some fireworks bought outside by residents and carried home, but the authorities are getting better results each year.

Nearly all the other cities limit the sale of fireworks to the smaller and less dangerous kinds, but they are awakening to the fact that no fireworks are harmless and that the lives of children are too valuable to sacrifice in this form of celebration.

"I trust that parents who allow their children to use fireworks will watch them carefully and I hope the day will come speedily when fireworks will be legislated out of existence in this state except at public displays in charge of experts."

C. & A. EXTENSION IN GREENE COUNTY

The Illinois commerce commission has authorized the Chicago & Alton to extend its line beginning with the terminus of an existing branch line at Titus, Greene County, thence extending due south about 3 3-4 miles, and to construct a branch of such extension beginning about 2 miles south of Titus and extending westerly approximately 2 miles to a point on the Illinois River opposite the City of Hardin, Calhoun County, being all in the counties of Greene and Jersey and comprising 5.67 miles in new line.

The commission said the greater part of the teritory to be served was in the northwest corner of Jersey county and that the only station to be established would be at the trminus of the branch opposite Hardin, to and from which point a ferry service will be operated in connection with the railroad. The estimated cost is $216,683, of which $136,457 will be borne by the company. The Nutwood District Improvement association and the Calhoun Improvement Association are to furnish the right-of-way, piling and telegraph poles, timber for cattle guards, fences, ties and bridges and do part of the grading.

When the Declaration of Independence was written people were still carrying money bags and paying their bills in cash. It was not until many years afterwards that this practice was discarded in favor of the modern way of paying bills by check.

You may be sure that if Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Hancock and the others were living today they would follow the modern practice of paying their bills by CHECK.

K. C. PROGRAM FOR DISABLED MEN

Amusement Project of Past Twelve Months Larger Than Ever Before.

The most intensive amusement program since the Knights of Columbus undertook hospitalization work in behalf of the twenty-five thousand and more disabled men in military, marine and government contract hospitals, was carried out during the past twelve months, according to reports made for the summer meeting of the supreme board of directors of the K. of C. at Chicago, Saturday, July 1st.

Operating in 362 hospitals with a personnel of 142 secretaries, all experienced in K of C. welfare work, the Knights have produced an average of four hundred vaudeville shows composed of professional talent, each week. In addition, motion picture entertainments and amateur concerts in which Elks and other organizations have co-operated, have been produced under K. of C. auspices.

While the entertainment program is subsidiary to the specific K. of C. work, which comprises visitation of the dsabled men, personal service and the distribution of creature comforts free, it is one of th most popular features of hospital life for the disabled men, who are unable to visit theaters in the cities and towns. During the twelve-month period just ended the Knights have escorted thousands of the sick veterans to theaters and baseball and football games, as well as boxing contests.

Well-known veterans, beginners and established actors in vaudeville comprise the K-C professional teams for hospital entertainments.

MINSTREL SHOW COMING TO GRAND

Special Theatrical Offering At Popular Prices This Week.

Offering a musical repertoire complete from the classics to the popular music of the day, the Four Musical Kings, one of the features of Arthur Hauk's offering, the Sunshine Revue, appearing at the Grand theater beginning Monday capture hearts of the music-loving public from the moment of their first appearance on the stage.

Led by Arthur Hauk, who is a mandolin and banjo player par excellence, the quartette offers a program of harmony different from the usual instrumental numbers featured in the productions of today. Barney Kleeber, Claud Reed and Tom Collins complete the harmony four, whose playing and singing score the biggest hits in the revue. Tom Collins, whose comedy antics carry his audiences into the realms of laughter during the entire production, carries his characterization into the work of the quartette and introduces additional punch into the music.

In addition to the Musical Kings, the Sunshine Revue features Helen Kennedy, the dainty soubrette, Tom Collins, Billy Cullen, and the Sunshine Beauty chorus, with elaborate scenery and costume effects and a change of program nightly.

We Give Standard Willard Service on All Batteries

With our experience and equipment we have a notion that we could work out a pretty fair sort of battery service without much help.

—But we also have an idea that it wouldn't measure up to the brand of service developed for our use by the Willard Storage Battery Company.

As Battery Headquarters we have the benefit of their years of experience, and of the definite national standards of service they have been able to develop as a result.

STATEMENTS MADE BY SCIENTIST THAT PUTS ONE UP IN THE AIR

ceived on the earth and warmer climate ensues.

Another explanation is the heat absorbing quality of ozone, which exists in greater quantity in the upper air. He concludes that the denser corona stops passage of some per cent of the ultra—violet rays, some of which acting on cold dry oxygen in the upper strata form ozone. In times of maximum spots there must, then, be less ozone. But ozone absorbs a great amount of earth radiation, therefore if the earth should be receiving an increase amount of heat at this time it might nevertheless grow colder because of the coincident depletion of the heat-conserving ozone blanket. It is also said that cirrus cloud or cirrus haze is more generally prevalent in earth's atmosphere during spot activity, and this blanket of cloud shuts out some of the solar radtaiion.

The reverse paradox then, which is also found to be true, may be accounted for in the same way. Sun's atmosphere is clearer during spot minimum and altho there may actually be less heat coming from the sun a larger percentage is allowed to reach the earth thru the thinner blankets.

Paradox of the Sun.

The paradox of the sun rising before it is actually up and setting after it actually has gone done, is explained by sending of light waves when passing thru the air. A stick, when placed in clear water seems to bend, a light ray when sent thru the air does actually bend. The rays from the rising sun are bent when they strike the air envelope. This angle varies according to well known laws, but on the average, the light from the sun is bent thirty four and one half seconds of degree, so that the upper limb of the sun when first seen is actually half a degree, below the horizon. As the regular diameter of either sun, moon or star is less than this fraction, it follows that when the sky is sufficiently clear the whole of either may be seen before even its topmost portion is geometrically above the horizon.

While the reverse is not absolutely correct astronomically, it is added, when sun, stars or moon set because of the slight modification due to earth rotation, nevertheless the difference is exceedingly slight. Consequently as the light rays are bent upward by earths atmosphere, the sun has actually gone down before it is seen to set by a terrestrial observer.

TWO BABIES MAKE 10,000 MILE TRIP

White Children Journey From Their Home in the Congo Country to California.

CHICAGO—Basanga and Bokesi, aged two and a half years and fifteen months respectively, are making a 10,000 mile journey to California from their home at Mondombie, a Congo village within a day's distance from an insurgent tribe of cannibals. According to the children's missionary father, Dr. Ernest B. Pearson, these cannibals eat the Belgian soldiers they capture both to express their contempt for them and to show that it can be done, Basanga and Bokesi, whose Christian names are Mary and Paul, were born in a jungle-rimmed village and until they started on the three-months' journey to America neither remembered ever seeing another white child. Mary speaks Londundo, a Bantu dialect as well as she does English, and Paul has learned no English as yet.

The children are viewing with little interest the things that they see on their trip. Automobiles and trains are new means of torture for them, as a horse was the only means of conveyance known to them in the Belgian Congo. Their African names were given them by the natives, who according to their custom of calling parents by the names of their first child, dubbed Dr. and Mrs. Pearson Is' Asanga and Nyang' Isanga (Father of Mary and Mother of Mary.)

Mrs. Pearson said that the natives call all women missionaries "mama" as a mark of respect, but that some of the single women at first object to the honor. Pajamas are the latest style in street wear at Mondombie, she said.

A woman who left her husband in the Congo recently was punished, according to Dr. Pearson, by being tied in the path of driver ants, which stung her terribly.

Dr. Pearson is a graduate of the University of Illinois College of Medicine. Mrs. Pearson who was Miss Evelyn Utter of Covina, Cal., is descended from the Bullock and Viley families of Kentucky, and studied at Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky., and at Butler college and the College of Missions, both of Indianapolis, Ind. They serve under the Disciples of Christ

MANY VISITORS AT FRENCH EXPOSITION

Is Being Held Marseilles and Proves Interesting to Many American Tourists.

MARSEILLES,— France's colonial exposition is proving a great attraction to visitors, especially to Americans. The party of prominent American bankers who recently came to Marseilles was particularly inttrested in the exhibit from French Indo-China, the near neighbor of the Philippines and a territory so rich and extensive that it plays a great part in Pacific problems.

French Indo-China has a population of 17,000,000 as against 7,600,000 in the Philippines, and its area is about 259,000 square miles, or 144,000 square miles more than the Philippines. French Indo-China is 87,000 square miles larger than all the Japanese islands and has only one-fourth the population.

The chief building of the French Indo-China exhibit is a reproduction of the fantastic Temple of Angkor, in Cambodia. This mammoth temple with its fine fretted towers and magnificant approache protected by animals, is the most striking feature of the exposition. In fact it is doubtful whether any exposition ever offered a more impressive and unique building. The temple stands in a secluded spot, with much open space about it. It is reproduced in concrete and plaster made in excellent imitation of mable. Pagodas in the same style of architecture flank the main entrance and are surrounded by lagoons No detail of a Buddhist temple has been omitted in developing the exterior.

Within are exhibits of Indo-rubber, coal, hemp, timber,wool and various other raw materials Cochin-China and Annam are shown, togther with paintings, photographs and cinema pictures illustrating the secenery and varied industries.

Marseilles calls itself the colonial capital of the French empire Ships from this port radiate tto every important seaport in colonial France, which is second only in extent and wealth to colonial England, and upon which Marseilles boasts the sun never sets.

In 1906 the first colonial exposition was held in Marseilles. This to be a decennial event, but the war prevented holding another till this year. Thirty-six hectares devoted to the exposition. Tunis, Algeria, Morocco, Madascar French West Africa, Equatorial Africa and the French West Indies all have buildings, many of which are of unusual charm.

Marseilles itself is a congress of nations. In normal times colonials of varing shades, from the light yellow of the Mongolian to the ebony black of the Senegalese, are to be seen in the streets But the exposition has attracted large crowds of distinguished colonials whose bright costumes make the avenues and buildings of the exposition even more fascinating than the intersting exhibits.

In addition to the display of colonial resources there are also art, machinery, automobile and commerce halls as well as various government buildings and a street devoted wholly to amusements. The exposition will continue till November.

MOURN DEATH OF FAMOUS HORSE

BUENOS AIRES,— Argentine lovers of horse flesh are mourning the death of Botafogo more, perhaps than would Americans if Man-O-War or Marvich were to die, for Botafogo really was one of themost remarkable throughbreds in the history of the turf.

He won 18 out of 19 starts by "many lengths" and then in a special match race defeated his only conqueror, Gray Fox, by leading him at the end of 3,000 meters. The match race was the result ofactive public demand and many thousands were wagered on the result, so intent was the populance upon seeing its favorite restored.

The race was a thriller. Boatfogo first took the lead and then relinquished it, the two steeds exchanging places with the turn of almost every furlong post. Cheers of the crowds changed abuntly to maddening groaning and back to cheering as the race progressed.

On the home stretch Botafogo was given his head and leaping into a hurricane sprint he finished so far ahead of Grey Fox that some spectators ran between the two.

The Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

Copyright, 1906, by the International Religious Literature Bureau, Incorporated.

The Rev. Davis W. Clark, D. D., Editor

Golden Text:—See ye Jehovah while he may be found; call ye upon him while he is near; let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto Jehovah and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God; for he will abundantly pardon. Isaiah 55, 6:7,

Ezekiel: the Watchman of Israel.

The fifth century, B. C., was a period of deepest gloom. Heathenism was triumphant — Jerusalem in ruins—its people in exile. But in the darkness it pleased God to keep three beacons burning—Jeremiah in Jerusalem, Daniel in Babylon, and Ezekiel in Chaldea. They preserved a remnant and paved the way for the coming of the Messiah. Ezekiel was never persecuted like Jeremiah. He was with the first exiles — the best company.. They were for the most part patriots who listened to the prophet as the messenger of God. Like Isaiah, Ezekiel was inducted to office by a vision of God. But what he saw so surpassed power of human language that nothing is conveyed but the glimmering ideal of an ineffable presence. Such was the installation of a prophet, especially one of action. He was not a weeping composer of elegies, but a man of determined energy, who, as his name signifies, was God's provider for his people's needs. Now follows a series of symbolic actions like those of Jeremiah. He drew with stylus on a clay tablet a picture of the impending siege of Jerusalem. He cut off his hair in sign that the Holy City was to be shorn of its glory.

He gave a picture of what he saw when "spirit led"—the temple walls covered with idol images and the worship of Adonis in progress at the very altar of God. No wonder that the next sees live coals scattered over the devoted city by the hands of cherubim. The forceful book closes with a description of the City of God so glorious as to make it the Apocalypse of the Old Testament. The Jews put Ezekiel along with the first part of Genesis and the Canticles — calling them "the Treasures"—and directing that they should not be read before one's 30th year. That is manifestly a mistake for Ezekiel in his liveliness and picturesqueness especially appeals to youth. As a piece of literature he makes for the best form of expression. But more than that he is a quickener of patriotism. His spiritual meanings also are clear and applicable to our day. He puts supreme emphasis on the spirituality of worship and the doctrine of a "new heart." His whole book reaches its glorious and golden climax when he cries, as if he was God's own voice, "Then will I sprinkle clean water on you."

Present Day Applications.

The talk of lifting the power of submerged classes is very good; it must be done of cours. But there is something else that must not be left undone. The literally educated, those endowed with wealth and culture must be guided, guarded, conserved. In fact these may be the very means of lifting the submerged. They are Jeremiah's basket of good figs over which the Ezekiel story is to stand guard.

Daily Reading.

Monday, Helped by the Spirit, Rom. 8: 22-27.

Tuesday, Persisting Prayer, Luke 18: 1-8.

Wednesday, Prayer in Faith, Mark 11: 20-26.

Thursday, Praying for Friends, Eph. 1: 15-23.

Friday, Praying for Enemies, Matt. 5: 43-48.

Saturday, Praying With Power, Jas. 5: 13-20.

To Think About.

Why are answers to prayers sometimes delayed?

How does prayer benefit the soul even when requests are denied?

What is the character of our prayers?

Are they are for material or spiritual blessings?

The miners decided not to mine any coal this summer. That would produce a shortage this winter and, as a matter of fact, the mine owners and operators were satisfied to have it that way.

Now the President invites them to get together and of course they will. What's the use anyway? It all means that you will have higher priced coal. Now that this is attended to, you may save a few dimes or dollars to help pay for the coal and we're trying to help.

During the first six months of this year, the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company manufactured and sold fifty per cent more automobiles than were produced during the entire year of 1921.

There could be no more substantial tribute to the worth and outstanding value of the Paige and the Jewett. Such a sales record proves conclusively that these two great motor cars have been accepted as leaders in their respective fields.

SCOUTS HAVE ACCIDENT

The profits of the Boy Scouts were greatly diminished by a costly accident at their booth on the west side of the square yesterday. Claude Cully undertook to refill a large orangeade bottle, which accidentally slipped from his hands and crashed to the walk. Naturally the bottle broke, costing the Scouts both the bottle and the drink.

Richard F. Boden of St. Louis arrived in the city yesterday and is a guest at Mr. and Mrs. J. Roedersheimer on Caldwell street. Mrs. Boden preceded him and has been in the city several weeks visiting her parents.

SMALL TURNOVER OF SHARES SATURDAY

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 1.—For all practical purposes today's stock market was almost non-existent. The attedance of members on the floor of the exchange was of slim preparations and the turnover of little more than 200,000 shares was the smallest, even for a week-end, since the beginning of the year.

Rails held their ground, regardless of the strike situation, early nominal recessions being largely, if ont entirely regained later. Some independent stels, as well as active oils and motors made moderate gains on the day, but many of the leaders rose and fell within fractional limits.

Weekly traders showing that business at several of the larger distributing centers was marking time, crop, reports were mixed, southwestern advices showing some deterioration for corn and several other staples.

For the first time in almost two months, actual loans and discounts of the clearing house banks showed a large decrease, the contraction of $150,000,000 being accompanied by a decrease of about $152,000,000 in net demand deposit and a little more than $100,000,000 in time deposits. The actual cash gain of practically $20,500,000 wiped out the previou week's deficit, leaving excess reserves at almost $17,000,000.

The foreign exchange market manifested further unsettlement on light dealings. Sterling held the better part of yesterday's rally, but most continental rails were unsteady and the German mark established an absolute net low at a fraction under .025.

Liberty Fourth 4½s rose to the year's maximum of $100.32.

Total bond sales (par value) aggregated $7,345,000.

FIRM UNDERTONE TO GRAIN MARKET

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Disappointing reports regarding the rust in the winter wheat belt and the apprehension of black rust in the northwest gave a decidedly firm undertone to the grain market today. The fact that some of these reports claimed damage was overlooked by the trade in their bullish enthusiasm. At the finish wheat was 1⅛c to 3½c higher, with July $1.17⅜ to $1.17⅝ and Sept. $1.17⅜ to $1.17½; corn advanced ¾c to 1¼c, oats were ½c to 1¼c up, and provisions ranged from 7½c lower to 5c higher.

Altho damage claims from rust have not been confirmed so far, Mineapolis showed more strength than Chicago, the July transactions being tight for several days. Deliveries on July contracts here this morning were 186,000 bushels of wheat, which was smaller than had been expected. Weather conditions over the spring wheat belt were favorable and temperatures rather too low for rapid development of black rust.

Corn and oats held within narrow limits with elevator interests buying the July and selling the September, without affecting the difference to any great extent. Country offerings of oats were not large but fair amounts of corn were bought as the result of rains over parts of the belt which have improved crop prospects.

Provisions were dull and unsettled.

MUSICAL SHOW COMING TO GRAND.

Helen eKnedy the little soubrette star featured with the Hauk Sunshine Revue offered this week at the Grank theater, is perhaps the cleverest performer of her type that local theater goers will have an opportunity of seeing for many a day.

Miss Kennedy possesses a remarkable stage personality which enables her to put her singing and dancing acts across in a finished style. Clever, quick and with a sense of effect, she is truly the life of the party at all times. Having graced the stages of the eastern vaudeville circuits for several years she is now confining her efforts to putting the pep and punch of vaudeville into the Sunshine Musical Revue.

Cast with Miss Kennedy to make up the Sunshine Revue are Tom Collins, Arthur Hauk, Claude Reed, Barney Kleeber, Billy Cullen, Cecil Paquin and Company and the big Sunshine Beauty Chorus. What is said of Miss Kennedy can also be said of every member of the cast of 25 people.

STRICTLY CASH

Beginning today this store will operate on a strictly cash basis. As is generally well known, in operating a credit business the customer who pays cash or pays promptly when statement is presented, must pay his portion of the amount lost on account of "Slow-Pay-No-Pay," and no matter how carefully credits are handled there are hundreds of dollars of this every year. Selling strictly for cash we shall be able to give you quality merchandise at very greatly reduced prices, because we shall have eliminated all losses and a tremendously expensive bookkeeping and collection system. Use the cash system and save money.
